to "is" is to "show/hide." thru specificity of this closure, the not-that-way-
-ness of this-way-ness but both of them one river glue these scribbles into "faces" of a numeral glue these noise is then to "moments" of a signifier glue them together with future-enacting social-flesh glue them together with "care"

Heidegger already said it. Can that saying be tuned ? "Care" is NASTY.
"Care" is gore. Heidegger piped thru Hobbes & Peirce but Hobbes "gnawledge is power" is the "trooth" of "care." He pulled ~~xxx~~ doubt a rotten truth. I meant to write "power is gnawledge" forempphasis.
we call knowledge the power to satisfy care.

but care is personal. mr shingles is a "poet" who wants you to mostly leave him alone. he doesnt "care" about bossing you. he doesnt "care" about me-so-rich sportscars. others want billions. others want white picket fence tenured professor. others want another bit more than a tent to sleep in later. care is the structure of worldface in terms of "value" & "disvalue." worldface is personal. worldfaces are "entangled." I "care" about my friend's reaction to my "went too far" philosopoetics. I care how the object is there for others. The "consciousness" of others is the "being there for them" of objects that are there for me -- or of those that relate to the objects "in my care."

the phenomenal feelled is care-articulated in terms of "digital quality." esoplato & the fire chief tell us the reprimordial fusion of continuum & integral, phine frases for the moist basic enduring "how it is"-ness.
To "is" is to "same differently." I use "same" as a verb. To same is to differ.
To persist is to vary.
That same green rose is "there" in its differing deconcealments. "Difficult" signs are good here. You know you dont have it because the reason for this or that sign hides from you. The "doctrine" is 2 symbol, fist on a post cord. A view of the glue of the wicked world.

A thing is "there" in some "how" or another "how". We use "pain" for some of the "ways" that a thing can "is." The tooth-ache is there in the how that we call "intense pain." This "pain" is "located." I put my finger on it. That little woman over there is "hot." The ~~xxxx~~ sign "attractive" is "hnoest" about the value-arrangement of the ur-empirical primating specific worldface. ~~xxxi~~ I say I "lust after." Chasive-evasive motor-visceral comportment. The streetcar-having-to-be-caught so I dont lose my job so I dont lose my apartment so I dont live with mom so I dont fell like a loser. floating mouth theory is (of course) grounded in this "care." just like this under-theory that employs it as a foil. but the nasty poetic pragmatist is self-consciously self-asserting as "more good" than that old seminary (unconscious) posturing. mr shingles will tell you he is sculpting gestures to sculpt a ~~paraxxxx~~ persona . O my friends there is no friend. We are rivals as re-arrivals. Joys of the wheel. I return as "Plato" or "Heidegger" with this or that ancient toon on mortal strings that are intestinal testimony of the relatively deathless.
Her bottom we had our gnosis in it.

notes on sweidorff (mr shingles aka mr situation research) early stuff was "cynical" persona theory. a "specified virtue image" explained as core this or that "ideology." he read nietzsche freud blah blah but time of the forum (online foolosophy talk) gave him data. key idea was that his own theory was a "fixed point" of that theory. the "specified virtue image" or "hero myth" was a "Freud" type. Other positions would be destabilized. The "mystic truth" man didnt want to see the self-assertion at the basis of his "projected idol." Likewise the "physics (disavowed) mystic." Also the "communist" and the "erase realist." He was an "ironist" or "gallows humor pessimist." Shakespeare worked as a symbol for an inclusive curiosity that did not "lose itself" in a fixed idea apart from this cynical forgiving amuse "fixed point" (his persona theory) I leave out oceans of detail, but he once wrote a sort-of-manifesto called "the birth of spirit from agency." Agency is "idolatry" or a grounding of the value of the self in a "cause" for which one served as "agent." Earnest foolosophy was the clash of agents. "Spirit" evolved from agency. It understood itself to "need no justification" in terms of "the generalized sacred." He had read Stirner and Kojève and many "ironic" thinkers. The general idea was not original, but he "felt" and "lived" it. I should mention that he read Blake and Whitman. He also ~~xxxx~~ quoted Nietzsche's portrayal of Jesus on the forum many times to see if anyone else "got" it. No one seemed to.

"Dramaturgical ontology" came next as a transition toward "mind matter stuff." This generalizes "theory laden obsevation." The world "appears" even at the level of "trivial facts" as if "thru the lens" of an entire personality. At this time he was undecidely an indirect-ish realist. But also -- in tension -- a this-worldly secular vague empiricist. Not long after he "saw the forum" or "the conditions for its possibility as ontology's necessary object." He became a direct realist. But (against his earlier ironism) "over-assuming the monological." Really his realism wasnt specified enough to be direct, but he saw that we "assumed" the possibility of communication, enacted it.

He still "truth as mirroring" relatively for granted, despite close study of Rorty. But all in a short period he "saw that belief was primary" and also really "got" Mach on "consciousness." He briefly called his position "neutral monism". He fused the "forum" insight with "aspect theory" presented as not a mirroring of a truthmaking too reality but as a selfconsciously situated belief. cacophonous ontological perspectivism.

Finally he focused on signs as perceptual objects and the issue of "meaning." An "idea" is not magical immaterial mindstuff but the equivalence of qualitative events in the social world. To paraphrase is to pair a phrase that (mostly enough) does the same thing. Lots of different items are called "forks." Saussure, Derrida, Sellars, then surprisingly ~~Rorty~~ doctrine was primitive ontology as elemental thing theory. Very lately psychoanalytic pragmatism and "ur-empiricism" which is Heidegger in a nasty English influenced by Hobbes and employing "cynically" a scientific lingo to point out "physics mysticism" as counter-empirical floatingmouth belief. The ontoplatonism is "pure theory" and yet gels perfectly with "caveman empiricism" via the understanding of numerals as "chunks of quality" that are enacted as such (as faces of numbers) in the care-structured meatdoings of this "ur-world" suppressed by researchers into the "transempirical" at the "seminary" of monological mirroring. Full circle. "power is knowledge" and "power" gives for a particular person what they in particular want. Belief is primarily meatdoings. Existence is prejudicial disclosure. Inquiry is the adjustment of frustrate visceral comportment. Expectant revelation. Vision is (also) blindness. Smiling is not-frowning. Heading north is not-heading south. Eyes in Texas are eyes not-in Florida. Grabbing the hammer is the not-grabbing of the screwdriver
